Please note: These awards, with the exception of the John F. Godfrey Journalism Book Award, are for students returning to the University of King's College for another year of study.

- Michael Elliott Awards (Two awards of $1200) - These awards are to be made to returning students in good academic standing, who display integrity of character, a spirited concern for the lives of others and have made an all-around contribution to university life.
- Beaver Club Award (One award of $2150) - The award is to be given to a returning King's student who, like members of the Beaver Club, has achieved above average academic standing and has made a significant contribution to extra-curricular activities which enhance the quality of life at King's.
- Sandra MacLeod Awards (Two awards of $2,350, one annual, one renewable) - These awards are made to a student in any year of his or her degree with a good scholastic record, who by the fullest use of his or her qualities of character and mind, make a contribution to the University of King's College. One award is given on an annual basis while the other is renewable up to three years. Recipients of the renewable Sandra McLeod award must re-apply each year.
- New Brunswick Award (One award of $800) - The award is to be given to a student from New Brunswick in good academic standing and who has contributed to university life. Preference will be given to students entering second year.
- Michael Saunders Award (One award of $650) - The award is to be given to a returning student from New Brunswick with a satisfactory academic standing, who shows financial need and who has made a positive commitment and contribution to University of King's College life. If there are a number of qualified applicants, preference may be given to a student entering Holy Orders of the Anglican Church of Canada.
- J. Mark DeWolf Award (One award of $250) – Established in honour of J. Mark DeWolf, BA(Hons)'68, President of the KTS 1966-1967, the award recognizes a King's student who has made an outstanding contribution to the King's Theatrical Society.
- King's Bookstore Co-op Award (One award of a $200 credit to King's Co-op Bookstore) - The Award will be given to a returning student who takes social action on behalf of the King's community. The spirit of the Award is to support a student who has a sincere interest and has demonstrated initiative to bettering campus life for all.

- ❑ John F. Godfrey Journalism Book Award (One award of $100 credit to King's Co-op Bookstore) - The award will be given to a journalism student in either program who has made a significant contribution to the School of Journalism at King's.
